ACCOUNTING

Business & personal accounting

Our program offers a comprehensive education in accounting and business. Students have the choice of pursuing an associate degree or a certificate to prepare for an accounting career.

Our students come from a wide variety of backgrounds, so the accounting program is geared to meet the unique needs of traditional students, adult reentry students and those with bachelor's degrees looking to advance or start a career in accounting as a CPA.

Employment in this field is growing in the United States, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Job opportunities are excellent in Northeast Ohio and across the country.

Graduates can look forward to a rewarding career in both large and small businesses, public accounting, nonprofit organizations and government agencies. Every industry needs accountants to analyze financial activity and to provide guidance to enhance operational efficiency.

Degree and certificate options are available. Our program is designed for both new students and those looking to retool or advance their careers. Our classes are offered on campus and conveniently online. Whether you're seeking a degree or professional development, our program will get you job-ready and prepared to advance.

Credentials

Graduates will earn an Associate of Applied Business Degree in Accounting, while certificate-seekers can specialize in a variety of accounting practices.

Continuing your education

Are you interested in continuing your education to earn a bachelor's degree in the field? Lakeland's Holden University Center can help you achieve this goal!

Earn your Bachelor of Science in Accounting and/or Forensic Accounting from Franklin University by taking classes right on on Lakeland's campus.
