Earn your
Google IT Support Professional Certificate
at Lakeland

Lakeland's IT&CS programs will prepare you to earn a variety of industry certifications, including the Google IT Support Professional Certificate. This certificate will prepare you for an entry-level role in IT support, helping to launch your IT career.

Lakeland students can earn this industry certificate once they successfully complete the following courses:

ITIS 1030 – Security Awareness

This can be done in as little as one semester! These courses are part of Lakeland's IT Support Analyst degree and Lakeland's IT Specialist (IT Support Focus) Certificate. Students can earn college credit in addition to this valuable industry certificate.
