

Electrocardiography

Offered exclusively in person, this program is not a distance education offering. It satisfies Ohio's educational requirements for ECG credentialing (or licensure where applicable). Because it does not include online delivery, it is not subject to NC-SARA's distance education authorization. Students who wish to use this credential in another state must confirm that state's certification or licensure requirements and whether additional steps are needed. Lakeland Community College seeks to maintain accurate disclosures but does not guarantee licensure or certification in every state.
