

Health Information Management Technology

This program is entirely in person (no online component). It is designed to comply with Ohio's educational requirements for health information and medical records certification/licensure. Because it does not constitute distance education, NC-SARA out-of-state authorization is not relevant. Students intending to work outside Ohio should check that state's certification agencies or licensure standards, as they may impose additional requirements. Lakeland Community College seeks to maintain accurate disclosures but does not guarantee licensure or certification in every state.
